Monster Color Donates PPE Face Shields to Sayre Christian Village

TrinSoft client Lynn Imaging & Monster Color answered the call when Sayre Christian Village, a local non-profit senior living community, needed life-saving PPE face shields. Staff at long-term care facilities often do not have the same access to PPE as healthcare workers in hospitals, yet they protect the most vulnerable to COVID-19.

Monster Color was inspired by SCV staff and their mission to provide hope, housing and healthcare to 375 residents on campus. Monster Color had a limited supply of materials, but was determined to donate their first 100 face shields ever produced on-site to SCV's staff.

"It is exhausting, time-consuming, expensive and SO DISCOURAGING hunting certain types of PPE to protect staff & seniors," said Elise Hinchman, VP, Marketing & Development at SCV. "When this gift arrived, you could almost see the weight visibly lift off our team. It was a prayer answered."

In addition to donating life-saving PPE face shields, the Monster Color team is also offering free signage to Lexington restaurants.

The Monster Color team is able to produce face shields, sneeze guards, and other COVID-19 signage needed during this unprecedented time.
